Andrea Turner grew up with an intellectually disabled sister and seeing her struggles and successes inspired Andrea to help other families. Her sister was involved with the local ARC at a young age and was the first teenager to live in an ARC residential group home. While unable to live on her own and quite challenged in some areas, her sister is also a savant with a spectacular memory. Andrea is also the mother of a lively daughter on the autism spectrum and has navigated many of the challenges unique to our community. As an Investment Advisor Representative with two close family members who have very different needs and abilities, Andrea understands how a disability can affect the whole family and how important it is to provide the best opportunities for them.
